A MAN who carried out a shooting spree at an address in Skelmersdale in a targeted attack has been jailed.

Thomas Anderson, 22, of no fixed abode, appeared at Preston Crown Court to be sentenced for the attack which happened at around 1.30pm on October 15, 2019.

During the incident, Anderson made his way through a house on Belfield with a handgun, shooting first at a 22-year-old man, causing injuries to his upper chest and shoulder. He then turned the weapon on a 46-year-old man who was shot to his upper arm and back, and a 47-year-old man who suffered an injury to his wrist.

FORMER CINEMA TO MAKE WAY FOR MORE STUDENT ACCOMMODATION

OFFICERS at West Lancashire Borough Council have recommended that proposals to modify the former Regal Cinema building in Ormskirk to make way for a retail unit, cafe, student accommodation and gym, be passed with conditions.

However, residents have reacted with anger to the proposals on the Champion's social media pages.

The proposals will be heard at the borough council's Planning Committee this Thursday (April 22).

The Church Street building, which was recently occupied on the ground floor by Poundstretcher, was built in 1936 and opened as The Regal Cinema. The Regal closed in 1963, then became a bingo hall and a Tesco supermarket in 1965.

The present application includes proposals to part demolish and extend number 37 Church Street only (former Poundstretcher site) and build a part four five storey building comprising of a mixed use ground floor including retail unit along Church Street, a cafe/restaurant to the rear, private student gym and student accommodation, a further retail unit on the lower ground floor to the rear and three floors of student accommodation above.

Regal plan backed by council chiefs

Report by Henry James

In the development there are two units proposed. One of these would have a frontage at ground floor along Church Street and the second unit at lower ground floor creating a new frontage to the rear facing the car park. The cafe/restaurant would be situated at the rear of the ground floor.

The student accommodation would see 74 bedrooms over four floors.

In planning documents for the meeting, a council officer states: "I consider the provision of four student bedrooms on the ground floor whilst retaining a commercial use and active commercial frontage to be acceptable in this town centre location."

"Provided adequate noise attenuation measures are installed there would not be an undue impact on the amenities of future occupiers of the proposed development. Continued inside

Special mural for cancer patients to be exhibited in Ormskirk town centre

Report by Henry James

A MURAL of hope, which has recorded the responses and experiences of those living with and beyond cancer during the COVID-19 pandemic, will be exhibited in Ormskirk town centre.

The 'Capturing a Moment in Time' mural has been produced through a bespoke Lancashire Adult Learning (LAL) arts-based health and wellbeing project with Macmillan Cancer Information and Support Service users from West Lancashire.

Sunflowers, a symbol of hope and new life, and handprints, to symbolise identity, connectivity and togetherness, are key aspects of the mural, which has had a profoundly positive impact on health and wellbeing.

The project began in September last year and service users first built up the confidence to independently work on the mural by learning art techniques with LAL.

An image of the finished mural will be printed on to material for an external exhibition in Ormskirk town centre. The mural will also be exhibited virtually at the Heritage England and Arts Council-funded Once Upon A Town in Ormskirk online gallery and museum in the spring, and physically at the Chapel Gallery in Ormskirk in the Summer.

Maggi Bradley was one of the learners on the project. Maggi, 54, said: "I'm really excited that the mural will be exhibited. I lost both of my parents to cancer last year and the project has helped me enormously with my mental health and my resilience."

Helen Draper, health and wellbeing tutor at Lancashire Adult Learning, said: "We have been working with Macmillan in West Lancashire for around 18 months and I'm delighted that we have been able to be flexible during the pandemic to deliver health and wellbeing sessions for their service users at a time like no other in living memory."

Shooter was intent on causing fatalities or serious harm when he struck at Belfield address

Emergency treatment was provided to all three victims at the scene which also involved the use of the air ambulance. Thankfully the men are recovering from their injuries.

Immediately after the incident, Anderson fled the scene on a pedal cycle, before ordering a taxi to take him to Up Holland train station. He then arranged for a second taxi, providing a different name to try and cover his tracks.

An extensive police investigation uncovered mobile phone evidence, CCTV footage and evidence left at the crime scene. A red coat worn by Anderson while fleeing the scene was found a short time later at Up Holland train station.

A detailed forensic examination of this jacket was undertaken which recovered a bullet case in a pocket and traces of gun shot residue. A mobile phone was in close proximity to the jacket which linked back to Anderson.

In February this year he appeared in court, where he pleaded guilty to one count of attempted murder, two counts of assault with intent to commit GBH and one count of possession of a firearm.

By our Court Reporter

He has now been sentenced to 20 years in prison.

DI Steve Monk, of Lancashire Police, said: "This attack was targeted and deliberate and he was intent on causing either fatalities or serious harm to persons on that afternoon. The level of violence used by Anderson was significant, careless and totally unnecessary."

"We'll never be certain what Anderson's motive was that day, but we believe he had a grievance against one of the victims and as a result entered the address with a handgun and shot all three people he came across."

"It is pure luck that nobody was killed, and I am thankful the three victims are making a full recovery from their physical injuries. Anderson pleaded guilty earlier this year and is now facing a significant period of time behind bars.

"It is clear that Anderson is dangerous and a very violent offender and is now being held to account for his actions."

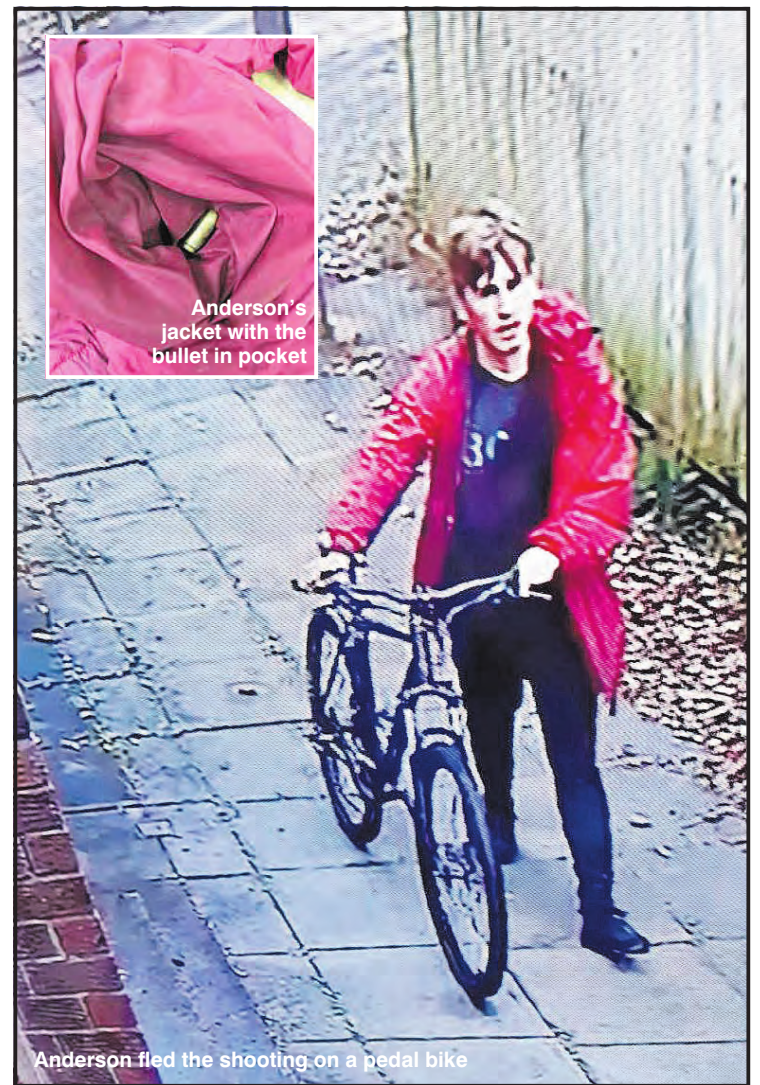

"I also hope this sentence brings the victims some closure, now they have seen justice served and a dangerous man removed from the streets."

"I would like to take this opportunity to thank the investigation team for the dedication and commitment they have shown to identify and bring to justice this violent individual, as well as the CPS and prosecution team for their contribution."

"We take incidents of this nature extremely seriously and this result should send the message that we absolutely will not tolerate gun crime in Lancashire."

Anybody with concerns about firearms should report them to us by calling 101 or 999 in an emergency.

Independent charity Crimestoppers can be reached anonymously on 0800 555 111 or at crimestoppers-uk.org.

Pupils and staff at Dalton St Michael's with the defib

School fundraise to buy defib for the community

A local school has managed to fundraise enough money to buy a defibrillator for their local community.

Pupils and staff at Dalton St Michael's C.E. Primary School are delighted that the potentially life saving piece of medical equipment has now been placed at the front of the building.

Headteacher Adele Robinson said: "After fundraising in school and with local residents, we managed to raise enough funding to buy a defibrillator for our local community."

"It has now been installed at the front of school for use by people in our locality. We are so proud of our children, families and local friends in helping us to raise this amount of money in such trying times."

Proposals to modify former Regal Cinema to make way for retail unit and student accommodation are recommended for approval

"The proposed development will not harm the vitality and viability of the town centre. Based on the reduced scale I do not consider the replacement building will cause harm to the character or appearance of the Ormskirk Town Centre Conservation Area or the street scene."

However, the recommendation has been met with dismay by many residents.

Carole Davies wrote on our social media page: "Such a shame we couldn't have had a local cinema within this complex."

While Naomi Bowditch added: "Can we stop putting student accommodation in all the historical buildings of Ormskirk!"

"Surely it's time to invest some of the money into something that will attract people into Ormskirk like a cinema. Something for the residents!?"

Rail Task Force strikes fresh doubts over city services

New proposals 'unacceptable' say campaigners

CALLS are again being made for vital rail services between Southport and Manchester to be maintained.

A cross-party group of MPs and community leaders have come together to safeguard essential rail services that serve half-a-million people in the North West.

The MP for Southport, Damien Moore and West Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper, as well as Lancashire County Council and rail campaign group OPSTA are all calling for the direct train lines between Southport and the south of Manchester city centre to be protected under any review.

The Manchester Task Force, led by the Department for Transport and Network Rail, has just run a consultation giving people three options over how the network can best cope with increasing levels of change from the pre-COVID service patterns.

All three options call for changes that could lead to Southport services no longer calling at stations to the south of the city including Piccadilly, Deansgate and Oxford Road, instead being directed by Manchester Victoria in the north of the city. People in the region are being urged to reply to the consultation and object to the proposals.

Southport MP Damien Moore appeared at Prime Minister's Questions recently, when he asked for "unacceptable" proposals to the line to be scrapped. He said: "The Prime Minister knows how important that the rail link between Southport and Manchester Piccadilly is for my constituents and for those living in the wider Lancashire area."

"All of the changes put forward by the Manchester Rail Recovery Task Force are unacceptable. They would stop these services from happening and take our levelling up agenda off track."

"Would my Right Honourable Friend (the Prime Minister) meet with me to discuss changes to these proposals so that we can keep this service and keep my constituents with the service they have come to rely on and which is vital to their economy?"

The Prime Minister, Boris Johnson replied: "We are investing massively in rail connectivity in his area, in local bus routes, and the particular line that he advocates is one that I know is of great interest to the Secretary of State for Transport and I will make sure he has a chance to discuss this personally with him."

Damien Moore; Rosie Cooper; Lancashire County Council Leader Cllr Geoff Driver; and Ormskirk, Preston and Southport Traveller's Association spokesperson Alan Fantom have all written to the Manchester Task Force and to the Minister of State for Railways Chris Heaton-Harris arguing against the "simply unacceptable" proposals.

The campaigners have only just won a fight to save the same line after it was withdrawn in January 2018, with the line only reinstated in December 2019.

They are now warning: "It is quite clear that the Task Forces' proposals are heavily biased toward the metropolitan communities in and around Manchester, leaving our constituents in Southport and West Lancashire respectively without a direct rail service." ● Curves funding boost - page 14

Bank closure shows 'utter contempt' for town, claims angry MP

Rosie Cooper hits out at Barclays for decision to axe Concourse branch

Report by Henry James

THE decision by Barclays to close their Skelmersdale branch in July has been met with dismay by West Lancashire MP Rosie Cooper.

The branch is found at the Concourse Shopping Centre, and the MP is claiming Barclays has not done an impact statement before making a decision.

MP Rosie Cooper commented: "It is incredibly disappointing to hear that yet another bank has chosen profits over people and will close its Skelmersdale Branch.

"Barclays blame the closure on a 14% reduction in counter transaction between March 2018 and 2020.

"This clearly still leaves a lot of people using the branch, customers they are now abandoning in the name of profits!

"They don't appear to have done an impact study as they have asked me what I think the impact on customers and community would be. They should have done this before they made their decision, not arrogantly asking after they announce the closure!"

Utter contempt

MP Cooper continued: "That they only informed me the same day that they wrote to inform customers of the closure shows Barclays utter contempt for Skelmersdale.

"The TSB branch is also due to close in May, at this rate there will be no physical banks left by next year!

How are people that cannot or do not use online banking expected to access their accounts now?

"Both Barclays and TSB have suggested their customers can use the nearby Post Office. This is putting all Skelmersdale Banking into one basket and will be one step from no banks at all.

"I have yet again written to the Business Secretary to raise my serious concerns that banking choice and availability is being completely removed. These banks were happy to be propped up by the taxpayer when they were facing bankruptcy but now the banking community appears happy to neglect those very same taxpayers and shut up shop leaving Skelmersdale at even more of a disadvantage.

"The Government need to step in to ensure the banks are actually supporting all their customers, not just the ones that have a smart phone!"

A Barclays spokesperson responded: "The decision to close a branch is never an easy one. However, customers are increasingly using alternatives to branches to do their banking. As a result, we are seeing a sustained fall in branch visits across the UK.

"This is reflected at Skelmersdale branch where over four fifths (87 per cent) of our customers at the branch are also using different ways to bank.

"We will work with our customers and provide alternative options to ensure they can continue to manage their money and receive financial expertise when required."

Proposal to build houses at former pub site edges closer

Further documents sent to council as part of plan to build 64 homes

Report by Henry James

A PROPOSAL to knock down a former pub in Skelmersdale and build 64 homes has edged closer after further planning documents were submitted to West Lancashire Borough Council.

Further details have been revealed about the plan to build new homes at ORM Works and the former Railway Tavern pub at Railway Road.

The scheme is for 64 dwellings, comprising 55 two storey houses and nine apartments in a three storey block, together with associated roads, infrastructure and landscaping works.

This reserved matters application is for the external appearance, landscaping, layout and scale. The outline planning permission was granted on October 13, 2020.

The Railway Tavern

The application, which has been submitted by Ian and Jeff Hill, who are the owners of Hills Salvage and Recycling in Skelmersdale, would see the derelict Railway Tavern demolished to make way for the homes.

The scheme would provide two, three and four bedroom houses using a range of seven design, and two bedroom apartments, and will provide homes for market sale and affordable homes for sale to a registered provider in accordance with policy, subject to the Vacant Building Credit available in this case.

Vehicular access is taken from Railway Road in the same position as the present site entrance, and is unchanged from the access details approved as part of the outline planning permission.

In the planning statement conclusion for the development, Smith & Love Planning Consultants state: "The submitted details for the approval of the reserved matters of external appearance, landscaping, layout and scale, following the grant of outline planning permission, demonstrate that a high-quality and highly sustainable residential development can be created which makes efficient re-use of this vacant and semi-derelict brownfield site to provide an optimum number and mix of new houses and apartments.

"The scheme has been informed by and designed to accord with the relevant policies of the adopted Local Plan and SPD design guidance, and consequently, having regard to all relevant material considerations. There is a compelling case for planning permission to be granted without delay."

'Memory walk' at care home supports charity

A CARE home activities coordinator has been pacing the courtyard where she works in Skelmersdale to raise funds for the Alzheimer's Society.

Sarah O'Shaughnessy, who works at Aaron Crest Care Home, on Tanhouse Road, completed 10,000 steps for "a charity that is close to our hearts".

Staff and residents at the home, which has specialist dementia care facilities, cheered and supported Sarah during her Memory Walk – some joining her for a few laps.

The team had a slogan to keep them going while clocking up the miles, their own version of The Proclaimers' famous song "I'm Gonna Be (500 Miles)".

They could be heard chanting: "And we will walk 5,000 steps, and we will walk 5,000 more, just to be the ones who walk 10,000 steps to help them find a cure!"

Sarah has raised £153 in sponsorship for the Alzheimer's Society.

She is looking forward to receiving a medal from the charity, which she will be dedicating to the residents who helped her complete the walk.

Sarah at the end of her walk

Sarah said: "Because of Covid you could set your own Memory Walk for the Alzheimer's Society this year, so I decided to do 10,000 steps here at Aaron Crest.

"It's been a tough 12 months and I know that charities have been struggling so I thought it would be nice to raise some money for a charity that is close to our hearts.

"Plus, it cheered residents up to know they were supporting me to raise money for charity."

Both Southport Flower Show and the Air Show have again fallen foul of the pandemic

Major events are cancelled again

Flower Show and Air Show fall victim to pandemic

SEVERAL of Southport's major tourism events have again fallen victim to the pandemic.

The Southport Flower Show has been cancelled for the second year running, as has the resort's Air Show.

Alan Adams, general manager of the Flower Show said: "This was a very difficult decision to make and the fragility of the Government's Roadmap, alongside the uncertainty over holding large events this summer, made planning for the 2021 show untenable."

"The first consideration must be the health and well-being of everyone involved in the show and how we keep our visitors safe. The show has become a much-loved fixture in the horticultural calendar and in the region's summer events programme attracting more than 55,000 visitors."

"The decision to cancel for a second year has been taken with an extremely heavy heart but we believe this to be the only course of action as we continue to work through these unprecedented times, and I would like to ask everyone for their support."

Organisers have asked if ticket-holders would consider supporting the show by rolling over their tickets to next year's show taking place from August 18-21, 2022. They will 'be in touch' with all ticket holders, traders, exhibitors, suppliers, and volunteers over the coming weeks.

"The 2021 Southport Air Show will not take place this year due to 'continued uncertainty over large scale events.'

Anyone who purchased a ticket for the show, which was due to take place in July, will automatically receive a full refund within 10 working days. Sefton Council chiefs say that the difficult decision followed months of hard work and planning by the authority's Tourism team and partners. They added that 'thousands of people visit to see our air show' and that they must 'put the safety and well-being of our communities and visitors first throughout the pandemic.'

Sefton Council have taken the decision to delay the Southport Food and Drink Festival until later this year and will confirm a new date as soon as they can.

However, council chiefs are 'working hard towards hosting the British Musical Fireworks Championship, from September 24 to September 26.'

There is some good news though - Southport Comedy Festival 2021 is set to go ahead in October after securing vital backing from the Government's Culture Recovery Fund. It means that some of the top names in UK comedy will be providing much-needed laughter this October.

The shows will be held in a large marquee with lots of ventilation and social distancing in place.

Locals urged to remain vigilant as more people enjoy new-found freedoms

After more restrictions were eased earlier this month, health experts voice caution to avoid 'slamming on the brakes'

Report by Henry James

SENIOR figures at the forefront of Lancashire's response to the Covid-19 pandemic are urging residents to remain vigilant as they enjoy their new-found freedoms.

Excitement is in the air as the county takes the biggest step yet towards regular life with the latest easing of restrictions on April 12, part of the government's roadmap out of lockdown.

Non-essential shops have now reopened as have hairdressers – much to the relief of people who are ready to get rid of those lockdown locks.

Pubs and restaurants have also been working around the clock to prepare for a partial reopening, with punters able to bask in the sun and enjoy a pint in outside seating areas.

For those wanting to lose all those extra pounds that have racked up during lockdown, gyms and swimming pools are finally reopened again.

The county council has said: "Restrictions do remain in place to enable us to continue to open our economy without having to slam on the brakes and shift into reverse. It is important that you wear a mask when asked by staff, unless you have a legitimate exemption, and provide contact details when requested.

"As the people of Lancashire reclaim pre-pandemic life, it is more important than ever to continue following the rules to prevent any further setbacks."

Dr Sakthi Karunanithi, Lancashire County Council's director of public health, said: "The latest easing of restrictions has been enabled by the hard work and sacrifices of the people of Lancashire.

"Your dedication to the cause, bolstered by the excellent work of our NHS-led vaccination programme, has helped drive down infections of Covid-19 in our communities. But while we are now able to enjoy some of our freedoms once again, we must also be mindful of the risk Covid-19 still faces. Infection levels are the lowest they have been for some time, but the virus has not gone away from our communities entirely, and a significant portion of people are still yet to be vaccinated.

"We want you to enjoy your freedoms, but please continue to follow the rules. Please continue to follow hands, face, space, and keep indoor spaces well ventilated."

Funding boost of £750k to improve bus services across West Lancashire

BUS users in West Lancashire can look forward to better services from May thanks to new investment from Lancashire County Council.

The county council has boosted its budget for buses by a further £750,000 for the coming year to fund improved links in West Lancs, Preston, South Ribble, and Chorley, particularly in rural areas, and increase frequency of services where there is strong demand.

The council is also using funding secured through the planning process to ensure the residents of major new housing developments have good access to public transport.

The council has been working with local operators on a number of improvements to services due to be introduced at the start of next month.

These routes will also see the introduction of newer, more modern, cleaner buses with improved customer features such as contactless payments and WiFi – these improvements are either already in place or due to appear in the near future.

While the current advice is to only use buses where necessary to prevent the spread of coronavirus, they still play a vital part in keeping people connected, and a better bus network will allow people to access opportunities and help the local economy to recover as restrictions are eased over the coming weeks and months.

County Councillor Andrew Snowden, lead member for buses, said: "Improving public transport has been one of our top priorities as we recognise that good bus services are vital for people to get to work, access education and other services, and are a lifeline for people in rural areas. We've already restored lost links to many communities which would otherwise have very little or no public transport, and we're now building on this by making existing services more frequent, reliable and convenient to use.

The county council say the money will improve local bus services

"Working closely with operators to introduce these improvements also means that passengers will benefit from their investment in the vehicle fleet.

"All of this helps to make routes more sustainable by ensuring people see their local bus as a good choice which they can depend on to travel in comfort.

"While there are still restrictions on using public transport at the moment, these improvements meet a number of requests from communities for better connections and will help to support our economy as Lancashire recovers from the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic."

Pupils and staff to walk 1,000km to support those with dementia

Pupils and staff at Lathom Park school

PUPILS and staff at Lathom Park school in Ormskirk are aiming to walk 1,000km to raise awareness and to support families who are affected by dementia.

One of their teachers, Mrs Randall's mum, Barbara, had Alzheimer's and recently died.

A spokesperson for the school said: "We dedicate this event in her memory and for all other families, and to raise as much money as we can to support this cause.

"We have a therapy dog in school called Otis, who is our Paw Patrol mascot, and he will be joined by his friends Rory, Lily and Pablo along with all the children in school.

"Please walk on their behalf with your own dogs if you can and donate whatever you can afford."

To donate, visit the JustGiving website and search for 'Lathom Park School'.

Children find out if they got into first choice primary school

County council say that 'vast majority' of youngsters got preferred option

Report by Henry James

THE vast majority of primary school starters in Lancashire will be going to one of their preferred schools this September, the county council has said.

Figures for primary school admissions show that nearly 99% of pupils have been successful with one of their preferences.

As well as this, 91.47% will get their first preference, 5.83 % will go to schools which were their second choice, while 1.44% will attend their third preference school. Only 1.26% have been allocated a place at other schools.

Careful planning and management of the required number of school places means that the vast majority of four-year-olds will be lining up in the playground at one of their preferred schools.

Edwina Grant OBE, Lancashire County Council's executive director for education and children's services, said: "This is an exciting but anxious time of year for parents, as they find out where their child will be starting school."

"Careful planning means that nearly 99% of pupils have been allocated a place at one of the schools they preferred, with the majority getting a place at the school they wanted the most. Importantly, once again we've been able to offer every child in Lancashire a school place.

"School places are allocated fairly and objectively and every application is agreed upon using the criteria which have been agreed for that school."

"However, I know it can be very disappointing for parents if their child is one of the few who don't get one of their preferences, and our local admissions teams will be happy to give information and advice."

This year, 95% of applications were completed online. A total of 12,854 children have received primary school place offers this year.

Parents will receive details about who to contact for advice and information on school admissions and appeals in the offer letter or email they receive.

Appeals are heard locally and those for Lancashire primary schools will take place during the summer term.

Council's housing firm forges ahead with latest development in Skem

TAWD Valley Developments (TVD) is continuing to press ahead with the plans of West Lancashire Borough Council to deliver more homes in the borough.

The company, owned by West Lancashire Borough Council, now has four active development sites in Skelmersdale, located at Eskbank, Fairstead and Brierfield and now, Northfield.

The Northfield development is the latest project to 'break ground'. Work has just started on site to build 27 new council homes that will be available to rent from the council and will welcome their new tenants in 2022.

It was also recently announced that plans for a further 50 council homes were submitted by TVD for a site in Fairlie in Skelmersdale town centre, where a mix of 12 one-bed apartments, eight bungalows, 22 two-bed houses and eight three-bed houses has been proposed.

Councillor Ian Moran, Leader of West Lancashire Borough Council, said: "The long-term housing crisis in this country has meant many people have been without secure and suitable accommodation for far too long.

"The lack of council-built homes has exacerbated this problem. That's why we took the decision to create Tawd Valley Developments and build our own homes for rent and sale."

"Few local authorities have committed to tackle their housing issues in such a direct way, and having four active sites in the borough, with more due online in the future is testament to our determination to deliver the affordable, quality homes our residents deserve."

Police issue guidance on Covid regulations as lockdown measures ease

Report by Henry James

LANCASHIRE Police is reminding residents it will continue to take a "common sense" and "proportionate" approach to policing Covid regulations as lockdown measures ease.

Pubs and restaurants serving outside were allowed to reopen as planned on Monday, April 12, along with non-essential shops, gyms and hairdressers. Spas, zoos and theme parks could also reopen.

As rules are relaxed police are urging people to continue following both the rules and associated guidance as part of the government's roadmap to coming out of lockdown.

Ch Supt Russ Procter, of Lancashire Police, said: "We all want a return to normality and Monday's easing of certain lockdown measures is a further step in the right direction."

"The vast majority of residents in Lancashire have shown tremendous patience and support in following the rules since the start of the pandemic and we would absolutely encourage them to continue to do so."

"Our overall policing style won't change – we will still be very visible and take a common sense and proportionate approach to policing the regulations in force at any point in time."

"We're of course mindful about a return to pubs and restaurants. Follow the rules, pace yourself and drink safely."

"We'll police with pride and professionalism and we will be engaging, friendly and fair – we won't however tolerate significant anti-social behaviour, violence or criminality."

Local authority licensing teams will ensure licensed premises are applying Government rules, meeting licensing conditions and keeping their customers safe.

Ch Supt Russ Procter, of Lancashire Police

Police will also work with partners to ensure these rules are followed.

Ch Supt Procter added: "We know 2020 has been tough but 2021 should be much better – we want people to remember it for the right reasons."

"If you are heading for a beer garden, have a good time but please be responsible."

"We'll be very visible, will often have extra officers on patrol and will have a focus on pubs, bars and the night-time economy."

"We still expect it will be really busy for us across Lancashire. Lots of our officers haven't had much of a break since the pandemic started – please let's do our best to help the NHS and all other front-line workers over the next few weeks by being responsible and having respect for yourself, others and the law."

"On the whole, the people of Lancashire have shown tremendous support and respect for the regulations – let's make sure this continues."

Libraries open again for browsing as coronavirus restrictions eased

LIBRARIES have opened again for browsing as coronavirus restrictions begin to be eased.

Visitors can browse, borrow, photocopy and use computers without an appointment, but may have to queue before being able to enter as part of social distancing arrangements which limit the number of people allowed in at any one time.

People will need to wear a face covering unless they're exempt, and be prepared to provide their name and contact details to support the national Test and Trace system. Children under 11 will not be required to cover their faces, and children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult.

All libraries will be operating their usual opening hours, except that they will close for lunch from 1pm to 2pm. This does not apply if the library is opening later, for example 1pm-7pm.

Public computers will also be available for 45-minute sessions starting on the hour, on a first-come-first-served basis. It may be possible to extend sessions upon request if nobody else is waiting. Charges for photocopying and printing were re-introduced from Monday, April 12.

Some libraries may also be able to make space available for people to sit and study, and make use of the free Wi-Fi. Anyone wishing to study is asked to check with their local library for details as arrangements will vary depending upon the amount of space available.

The six of the best service, which was introduced during lockdown, will be continuing for those who would prefer to collect their books at the library door. This allows people to collect up to six books selected by library staff during opening hours.

Anyone wanting to return books can do this by putting them in the returned books container at the entrance. Books will be quarantined for 72 hours before they are re-shelved.

All book loans have been extended, where possible to Tuesday, May 4. Overdue charges will be re-introduced from May 4. Books can be renewed online or by calling 0300 123 6704.

All book reservations collected after Tuesday, May 4 will incur the 75p charge.

Self-service machines, where available, will also be reintroduced from Tuesday, May 4. Card payment will also be available on the self-service machines from this date.

Julie Bell, head of service for libraries, said: "People will be able to come along and browse although we do need to limit the numbers of people allowed inside at any one time, and we're grateful for people's patience if they do have to queue."

The music and drama lending service available to subscribing groups, such as choirs, orchestras and drama societies, is also available again, though limited to collections held by Lancashire libraries. Orders can be placed online, and sets can be returned to any library.

Funding boost for Burscough Curves restoration plans

Report by Tom Martin

Burscough Curves plans given boost

PLANS to restore the Burscough Curves have been given a boost.

A new pot of funding recently established by the county council called the Lancashire Economic Recovery and Growth Fund is being used to support a bid to the Department for Transport to progress the business case for the Burscough Curves by offering to 'match fund' or 'top up' any funding provided by the DfT to get the study underway.

Re-instatement of the rail junction at Burscough would reconnect the Southport – Manchester line with the Preston – Ormskirk – Liverpool lines, opening up two new rail routes for south and west Lancashire, and bringing economic benefits by providing better links between railway stations in Southport and Lancashire.

Rail services are central to regional economic development, growth and post-epidemic recovery plans, and essential to achieving zero carbon.

The added connectivity provided by restoring the Burscough Curves would address a number of transport issues and constraints on existing transport networks. While Ormskirk enjoys a fast, frequent train service to Liverpool, other services and public transport connections across the areas are poor, disjointed and infrequent. Travel by road is not easy and has adverse consequences on health with air quality exceeding safe limits at some points along busy arterial roads. In turn this impacts the competitiveness and economic development of the area.

The Department for Transport is currently inviting MPs, local councils and community groups to bid for funding through a programme called Restoring Your Railways to progress proposals to reinstate disused railway lines, and restore closed stations. The DfT will fund 75% of costs, up to £50,000, of successful proposals to help fund transport and economic studies and create a business case. The proposal, agreed in principle, is to match/top-up any funding resulting from a successful bid to Restoring Your Railways from the Lancashire Economic Recovery and Growth Fund to carry out the business case for restoring the Burscough Curves, demonstrating county council support to the values of the scheme and wider sustainable transport ambitions. If a business case can be proven, further work would then follow to fully detail the feasibility of the proposal, exploring issues such as delivery costs and impact upon existing railway operations such as timetables.

The bid is being sponsored by four MPs representing the area, and is being led by the Ormskirk, Preston and Southport Travellers' Association (OPSTA), a rail user group that campaigns for improvements to the area's railways.

County Councillor Michael Green, Lancashire County Council cabinet member for economic development, environment and planning, said: "Our offer to top up or match DfT funding through the Lancashire Economic Recovery and Growth Fund could just be the key to finally unlock progress with this scheme by supporting an initial study to prove the business case."

At the Liverpool Dental Spa we offer sedation which will allow you to get the smile you have always dreamed of!

Liverpool Dental Spa can offer nervous patients pain free dentistry no matter how big or small using sedation this will allow the most nervous patients to go through any dental procedure calmly and successfully.

Wouldn't it be fantastic to never have to worry about a denture moving or slipping ever again?

To have the confidence to choose anything off the menu and be able to laugh, sing and speak in public without that subconscious fear that your denture will let you down at the worst possible moment?

Dr Marius McGovern, clinical director at Liverpool Implant and Aesthetic Dental Spa, is passionate about ending denture suffering by using implants to provide same-day teeth.

He said: "Having missing teeth can have a social and functional impact, but here at Liverpool Implant and Aesthetic Dental Spa we aim to address this for our patients by providing same-day fixed teeth."

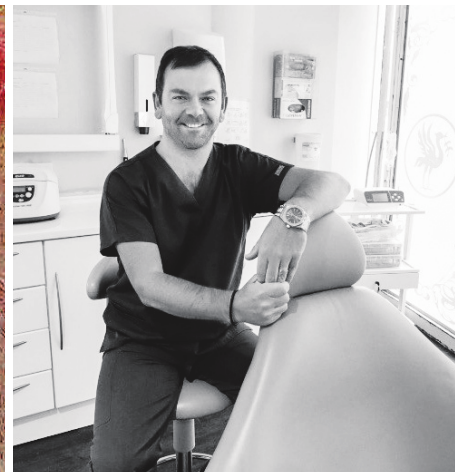

"Many people are now aware that dental implants can replace single missing teeth in a highly successful, attractive and long-lasting way."

"However the advancement in dental implant techniques allows replacement of all missing teeth and full dentures with All-on-4 in a single day!"

West Lancashire Resilience Society launched to support local businesses

Report by Henry James

PEOPLE are being invited to one of two online 'question and answer' sessions in advance of the launch of a new organisation, provisionally called the West Lancashire Resilience Society (WLRs).

The one-hour events to be held at 6pm on Tuesday, April 27, and repeated at the same time on Thursday April 29 will introduce the main concepts behind the planned new society, and will be of interest to potential directors as well as to those interested in membership and, when the time comes, investment in 'community shares'.

Details of the events, and how to book a free place, are on the new website.

There is also a contact form on the website to allow people to submit written questions and comments, and the group will respond to these as fully as they possibly can.

Speaking ahead of the event, one of the people involved in planning the new society, Ormskirk resident Paul Cotterill, said: "The two Q&A events are being held both to raise awareness and gauge interest in what the new society will offer. The concept has already got us as far as being national finalists for a key social innovation award, and we like to think we're on to something, but it's local people who will tell us whether we're right about."

Community Shares

Paul continued: "The basic 'offer' we're proposing is to support our local town centres through the issuance of 'community shares', under the regulation of the Financial Conduct Authority, with the resources raised then invested in local businesses or premises where there is mutual benefit for owners and for the Society's members."

"There are also a number of 'ancillary projects' in the pipeline, designed to complement that core offer and all around a theme of financial resilience."

"Of course, none of this can happen without due reference to how the pandemic may change our local economies, and the Q&A session will give space to this important aspect."

"A working draft business plan with three year financial projections is available on the website as a 'rough cut', for those who want to get into the detail. The society must be transparent in its objectives and activities right from the start."

"One important point to stress is that we're not seeking to compete either with local businesses or the local voluntary sector, which has done an extraordinary job in helping us all get through the age of Covid to date."

"Part of the reason for the Q&A is to allay any such concerns, and to take views on how we'll act to complement and support what is already being done by others."

Champion MOTORS

Could Kia's K8 fill void left by Jaguar's luxury saloon?

NATURE abhors a vacuum. In this case, the one created by Jaguar's dearly departed XJ saloons.

You'll probably know the outgoing X351 model best from wafting its way in and out of Downing Street, complete with bad Prime Ministerial hairdo in the back, or if you're being kinder, as the 'car with the tracker' that James Bond uses in Skyfall to kidnap M, before promptly dumping it and trading it in for his Aston-Martin DB5. Rumour has it that the Jag's still parked there, abandoned in a London alleyway, to this day.

So I know I wasn't the only petrolhead on the verge of shedding a quiet tear when its makers confirmed, as part of their recent reinvention as a leading zero emissions brand, that the XJ didn't quite fit into their plans and that its all-electric replacements had been cancelled.

I loved the old XJ, though I'm not sure whether it was down to its fly-weight aluminium construction that made it feel far more lithe than any large luxury saloon has any right to be or the don't-give-a-damn styling that the marque traditionalists hated when it was launched but has got gradually better with age. It was a proper Jaguar, in a way that the I-Pace, for all its brilliance, hasn't really managed to be. In fact, it's aged so well that Kia's clearly given it another go with its own new leather-lined saloon.

Kia isn't planning to launch the Mercedes to launch all-electric car this year

MERCEDES is launching an all-electric luxury saloon later this year.

The EQS (pictured above) is aimed at the same people who'd normally consider an S-Class and will have a maximum range of 478 miles, with a rapid charge facility that can allow it to be charged it up in 31 minutes.

It'll also come with self-driving technology that, where legal, can take over at up to 37mph. It'll arrive later this summer, with UK prices announced nearer the time.

David reckons the Kia K8 has an uncanny resemblance to another luxury saloon

K8 in Europe or the UK, which I can only presume is because looks-wise it's a dead ringer for the old Jag. Aside from the new corporate front end – which the manufacturer is calling its 'Tiger Nose' styling but to me has more than a whiff of current Ford Mondeo about it – the K8 is pure Cameron-era XJ. Same massive glasshouse. Virtually identical droopy rear end. Even the interior, which works well and has everything you'd expect from an opulent top-end saloon, could have worked equally well in the old XJ. Even the name – the K8 – sounds like it's been appropriated off a certain other old Jag.

Admittedly, there are a couple of things that aren't terribly Jaguar, particularly beneath the I Can't Believe It's Not Butter bodywork. It's four-wheel-drive, with most of the oomph going to the front wheels (something tried out on the old X-Type, but not for its bigger brother), and the launch engine is a 3.5-litre V6 that, for all its direct-injection tech, doesn't have any aspirations to become an all-electric (or even hybrid) anything. There'll also be a 2.5-litre four-pot version for those who don't fancy having their wallets drained every other week and – for those of you who aren't in a rush – a 1.6-litre engine later this year.

But personally what I think Kia needs to do is rethink their decision not to bring it here, strap a supercharger onto that V6 and fit it with a mesh grille and some moody alloys. Perhaps they could give this model a different name to denote its go-faster potential – KR, for instance.

They could even, to woo would-be Audi and BMW owners into this new top-line offering, adorn it with some sort of animal-themed bonnet ornament too. Maybe a leopard, or some sort of cheetah?
